ABSTRACT

The booklet is a directory to the career education resources of Columbia County in central Pennsylvania and was developed by teachers during an inservice institute. It is the fifth volume of the final report of the institute. The resource persons or companies which appear in the directory are grouped by occupational cluster, then listed alphabetically within the cluster according to specific occupational title. For each community resource listed, an address and telephone number are given and a notation is made on the educational services offered (individual contact, class speaker, field trip), the amount of advance notice required, the grade level recommended, and the career subject which the resource person could address. In many cases, a brief comment notes additional information. Two indexes, one of occupational titles and one of company titles, refer the user to occupational cluster numbers. (AJ)
